

Richmond Public Library's International Living Room at the O Zone

Relax, socialize and catch the Canadian spirit in the comfort of your home-away-from-home, the International Living Room at the Brighthouse Branch of Richmond Public Library.

Out-of-town guests can catch up on news from around the world with electronic international newspapers. You can also email family and friends, print out airline tickets or just surf the Net at our free Internet Café.

Take a break from the crowds, grab a coffee, and cheer on your favourite athletes or teams while watching the Games in our large screen TV lounges. Enjoy an array of films for kids and adults in our Canadian Cinema daily. Want to learn more about Canada? Be sure to see the Canadian Showcase Collection of books and magazines, a visual delight that highlights the best of Canada.

While you're here, check out Coach, a must-see exhibit for kids and families. Coach is a hands-on game and interactive science exhibition about Olympic athletes and coaches that makes learning about sports and fitness fun! With Coach you can try out your hockey skills, work on the Bone puzzles computer game, see body organs up close, and even build your own flip book!

Have your picture taken with Ralphie the Rhino performing his favourite winter sports. Ralphie is the champion of the world's first round library card.

Check out the Story of the Games, a display that chronicles the history of the Olympics as seen on the cover pages of the Vancouver Sun and Province. Daily updated front page coverage from the 2010 Games is courtesy of Canwest Global, publisher of the Vancouver Sun and Province.

Residents and visitors, be sure to stop by Crossroads on the main floor, where you can sample BC and Canadian magazines, get a cool book bag or a souvenir Canadian book to take home. Don't miss the opportunity to create a legacy for future generations of readers by supporting the 2010 Canadian Showcase Collection and the International Showcase Collection. These highlight the best books from Canada and around the world. Go ahead, make your mark on Canada in person or online at www.yourlibrary.ca/legacy. For you book lovers check out BookCrossing, the world's largest book club, where you read and release your books into the wild. Your books are tagged with a unique tracking number so you can follow their travels through the world.

Come in and meet the world!
